Lunch buffet at Town of Bellville

After lunch, head to the "Toonie" two-dollar coin statue built by Canadian artist Brent Thompson Sword. The statue is 8.2 meters high and has the image of a polar bear engraved on it. Then onward to the Ranney Suspension Bridge, Ontario's first 300-foot-long suspension bridge over the famous Ranney Canyon with 30-foot-high cliffs. The center of the suspension bridge is the best location for photography, with views of the hills, the Trent River, and the picturesque Ranney Falls.

Finally, on the way back to Toronto, take a break at the famous Big Apple. At the same time, you can see the production process of apple batches, and you can buy local specialties, such as apple cheesecake, apple bread and so on. Return to Toronto in the evening.
